Advanced Laser can improve your skin

Do you want to diminish fine lines and minor scars, improve sun and age-damaged skin, and restore your skin?

Advanced Laser Clinics, an innovator and leader in skin rejuvenation and laser hair removal, introduces a new technology that reduces the effects of time on skin.

LightPulse Skin Renewal is a combination therapy that includes three proven treatments, photo rejuvenation (Intense Pulsed Light), microdermabrasion and a specially formulated skin-care product, according to Robert Rossio, medical director at the Beachwood clinic.

"When these three therapies are combined, patients appear to look years younger when they finish treatments," he said.

Advanced Laser Clinics uses a revolutionary device, which corrects and may actually reverse skin imperfections, including rosacea, sage spots, freckles, sun damage, broken capillaries and facial spider veins, Dr. Rossio said. The high-tech device, called IPL Quantum SR, provides pulses of intense light that can be applied over the entire face and/or neck, chest and hands.

Microdermabrasion is a deep skin-cleansing technique that uses aluminum oxide crystals to gently exfoliate the skin's outer layer, Dr. Rossio said. Treatments promote smoother skin, improved pigment, decreased pore size and treats acne.

Advanced Laser Clinics has developed individualized facial renewal goals by assessing each individual's skin's needs and creating a custom-care treatment routine of the scientifically proven treatments.

The combination of treatments, Dr. Rossio said, significantly increases the stimulation of collagen regrowth and optimal results are achieved typically in five treatments. Most patients return to work and full activities immediately after a treatment, he said.

The clinic is dedicated to providing patients with the highest quality of skin care by using the latest non-invasive cosmetic technological advancements delivered by Dr. Rossio, who is board certified and his staff of trained technicians.

The clinic offers no-cost, no-obligation consultations, affordable payment options and convenience, as the largest provider of aesthetic services in the country, Dr. Rossio said. Advanced Laser Clinics has performed over 250,000 treatments nationwide, he said.
